

Jeremiah's signature style is defined by crisp colors, bold shapes and sophisticated composition. Each digital image is created in camera utilizing slow shutter speeds and long time exposures.

His sleek and minimalistic limited editions have endeared the media as well as the serious art collector. National collectors include the Holiday Inn Corporation, Starbucks, Anheuser-Busch, Club Med and the Smithsonian American Art Museum.

In addition to being well respected in the community for his charitable contributions, Jeremiah is also a photography instructor with the Broward County School Board.
